Introduction to the Readings

First reading Deut 8:2-3, 14b-16a

The context of this reading is Moses' final speech and he reminds the Israelites of their experience of God. It may seem remote but is actually very close to our experience: well-being often leads to spiritual amnesia, then and now.

Second reading 1Corinthians 10:16-17

All communities have tensions and divisions, as does every parish. Conflict is normal! This was true also of the ancient Corinthians. That is why Paul reminds them that our sharing in Christ is both real and deeper than any apparent division. One bread, one cup, one body.

Gospel John 6:51-58

John's Gospel has many striking "I AM" sentences on the lips of Jesus. "I AM the bread of life" can best be heard by recalling your own faith in Jesus, who nourishes us and gives us life. Peter's answer can help us here: "Lord, to whom can we go? You have the words of eternal life. We have come to believe and know that you are the Holy One of God." (John 6:68-69) This is the faith we celebrate when we come to the Lord's Supper.
